

Induction Policy

This policy relates to all newly appointed staff/faculty and to existing staff/faculty members who have taken on a new role within the University. Staff/faculty are expected to be proactive in their own induction, and ensure that they receive from appropriate sources the relevant information and support that enables them to apply themselves to their job and fully contribute to the success of the University.